*Two Deliver
Tomorrow* from the Shipment Series

THE WORKS FROM THE SHIPMENT SERIES DETAIL THE DESTINATION OR ORIGIN OF THE SHIPMENT ON THE CONVERGENCE OF THEIR CONTOURS.

This series of work is made by Jeremy Lepisto. He is an American artist currently living in Australia and pursuing a PhD in Sculpture at the Australian National University.

Each work from the Shipment Series consists of several hollow constructed "packages" of glass. The hand rendered imagery of each piece is depicting either the imagined origin or destination of the shipment. The complete image of these locations can be fully seen once all components of the shipments are brought together and presented on their fabricated and powder-coated steel pallets.

The piece to the right is titled Two Deliver Tomorrow and it is 12"w x 12"d x 25.5"h and was made in 2011.
